Subject Line: Requesting approval to attend Automation Fair 2024

Hi [First Name],

I recently came across Automation Fair 2024 and believe it is a valuable investment of our company's time and budget, so I am requesting your support and approval to attend the event in Anaheim, CA from November 18-21.

It's clear to me that Automation Fair is more than just a conference. It's a four-day event bringing together industrial automation and digital transformation experts and leaders from around the globe. I'll spend the week talking with like-minded people, learning about the latest technologies and proven best practices that enhance operations and achieve real results that directly apply to our work here.

By attending Automation Fair, I'll get a rare opportunity to learn, network, and discover new insights that I will bring back with me and present to our team.

Specifically, this is why I believe Automation Fair is worth the investment:

- Vision: Industry leaders and technology experts will present the big-picture strategies driving success for others right now.
- Interactive training and education: Nearly 200 technical sessions, hands-on labs, panels, customer stories, topic-focused summits, off-site tours and more will provide firsthand experience with the latest industrial automation solutions.
- Innovation: The newest and proven IT and OT innovations from Rockwell Automation and more than 100 of their partners will be on display, some for the first time.
- Interaction: Face-to-face interaction with others in our industry will provide me an opportunity to discuss specific challenges with experts and learn how others solved the problems we face.
- Keeping up: Our peers and competitors will likely be in attendance. How can we keep up with them if we're not accessing the same insights they are?

Automation Fair®
MAKE IT MATTER.

Early registration pricing is $495 and I anticipate costs related to my airfare, hotel, and ground transportation, but I know that these expenses will be offset by the exponential value the event will bring to our strategies and operations. If given approval to attend, I'll share a summary of the major takeaways that can help us take our KPIs to greater heights.

Thank you for considering this request. I look forward to your reply in time to take advantage of the September 30 early registration pricing.

Regards,
