OTTO Corporate Brochure

OTTO, at a glance

8M+
deliveries completed every year

7M+
production hours in mission-critical operations

100+
AMR vehicle fleets, largest in industry

At OTTO, we believe material handling is one of the most dangerous and unproductive parts of manufacturing and warehouse operations. Our mission is to create safer, more productive and more fulfilling workplaces for manufacturers around the world with the most comprehensive autonomous material handling solution.

Latest Awards & Recognitions

Readers Choice Product of the Year, Material Handling 24/7, 2023, 2024

Gold Stevie Award, International Business Awards, 2023, 2024

Material Handling Solution of the Year, Supply Tech Breakthrough, 2023

The Vector AI20 Top AI Companies to Watch, The Vector Institute, 2023

Pros to Know, Supply and Demand Chain Executive, 2023, 2024

Most Innovative Companies, Fast Company, 2023

Team True North, Top 1 % of Canadian Private Companies, Communitech, 2022

Top 50 Company, Robotics Business Review, 2013, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018

Autonomously tackle any material handling job up to 4,200 lb with the industry's most comprehensive AMR fleet.

Company History

2015

Company is founded

Launches OTTO 1500, the industry's first heavy-class AMR

2016

Launches OTTO 100, an agile and powerful AMR for human-scale loads

2020

Expands business operations to Japan and receives CE mark

2021

Exceeds one million production hours for heavy-class AMRs

2022

Launches OTTO Lifter in North America, becoming the first to offer both flatbed and forked AMRs

2023

Acquired by Rockwell Automation, the world's largest company dedicated to industrial automation and digital transformation

Launches OTTO 600 and OTTO 1200

Headquarters: Kitchener, Ontario, Canada
Team: 300+ employees
Industries Served: Automotive, Industrial, Consumer Goods, Food and Beverage

Visit www.ottomotors.com for more information.